READ OLYMPICS BOOK FORM

Name ___________________________ Grade _______

Book Title ____________________________________________

Characters ___________________________________________

____________________________________________________

Setting _____________________________________________

Question #1 ____________________________________________

____________________________________________________

Answer & Page ____________________________

____________________________________________________

Question #2 ____________________________________________

____________________________________________________

Answer & Page ____________________________

____________________________________________________

Question #3 ____________________________________________

____________________________________________________

Answer & Page ____________________________

____________________________________________________

Question #4 ____________________________________________

____________________________________________________

Answer & Page ____________________________

____________________________________________________

Question #5 ____________________________________________

____________________________________________________

Answer & Page ____________________________
The Basics for Creating Reading Olympic Questions

1. The questions should be factual based on a significant occurrence, description or fact from the book.

2. The question can only have one correct answer.

3. The questions cannot be “true or false” questions or have “yes or no” answers.

4. The questions cannot be about trivial items found in the book.

5. The questions never ask the author or title of the book.

6. The questions should not ask about something that the person would know without reading the book. For example, “Who was president during the Civil War?” would not be a question about an historical fiction book set in Civil War times.

7. Avoid asking a lot of questions where the answer is a character’s name.

8. Do not write questions which ask for the reader’s opinion.

9. The page number of the correct answer should be listed for verification purposes, in case this is needed during the practice rounds.